On Thursday the 9th of February 2017, tourism industry partners came out to experience the first guided movie location tour “Jamaica Land of Film” hosted by Caribic Vacations. The tour departed from Pier 1 and continued on through Falmouth and Ocho Rios highlighting locations and interesting information based on extensive research of 100 years of film production in Jamaica. The tour has been developed from the book Jamaica Land of Film by Peter Polack to be published later this year.

“The tour was important for our industry partners to experience for themselves as a new attraction and they will be able to share with their guests and visitors first- hand knowledge of the tour. It’s not your typical outdoor high energy adventure tour, it’s unique, guests will visit interesting movie locations and learn of behind the scenes stories of the making of the films. Along the way they can relax in air-conditioned comfort and take in the tropical beauty of Jamaica” said Roy Page CEO of Caribic Vacations.

The tours visits locations in Falmouth, Montego Bay and Ocho Rios and highlights well-known films including Papillion, Live and Let Die, Cool Runnings and How Stella Got Her Groove Back.

Vanessa Polack of Commercial Services stated that “We are excited to have our industry partners experience the tour for the first time and appreciate the very positive feedback from these professionals. Their insight and feedback of an interesting and innovative tour proved most valuable. Future plans to add two more tours, in Port Antonio and Kingston, are in the works to cater to guests and visitors in those areas and highlight the movies made there.”
